

Denis Shank

Over the last several decades, Denis has provided his clients with a seamless point of contact for a wide spectrum of transactional and advisory commercial real estate services. He has a breadth of expertise in the areas of site selection, design-build, client requirements analysis, negotiation and transactional coordination that leads to positive results. As a Cornell University graduate in the Commercial Real Estate field, Denis takes pride in servicing his clients and supporting the Capworth team members with the highest professional service standards at all times.